

The Tiger '55

Negial King

The Tiger Staff

Foreword

Look not into the past--It comes not back again---Wisely improve the present--
It is time--Go forth to meet the shadowy future without fear and a manly heart.

In days to come we hope that this book will grow in value. Many years from now, you will leaf through this 1955 annual and recall various experiences in high school.
Many of them will be brought to life by the sight of an old friend's face.

IN OUR STORY THIS YEAR WE HAVE TRIED TO CONVEY IN WORDS AND PIC-TURES HOW WE WORK, WE PLAY, WE GET RESULTS.

You might find some imperfection but we know that you sympathize with our efforts in endeavoring to bring you an annual that you will always treasure. So we present to you, students and faculty of Temple school, your 1955 TIGER.

The Staff

Dedication

To the ones who have long deserved the honor we wish to show our appreciation for your guidance throughout our school years.

To honor you---our parents, for love, for faith, for principles---gifts imbued in us from birth, for all that builds us---we wish to dedicate the 1955 Tiger to you---OUR PARENTS.

Students may come and go, buildings may change, but the Administration and faculty remain to guard the never changing values for which Temple Public School stands. From the day you enroll to the time you are handed your diploma, the faculty, while guiding you in the ways of learning, endeavor to impart to you the high principles and ideals on which to build a successful life.

J. T. Adams

Administration

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation for the excellent cooperation and fine work exhibited by the faculty and student body of Temple School.

My greatest desire is to see the graduates of our school adjust themselves successfully to our democratic way of life.

H. P. Hickerson

Our Story

We wish to tell in these pages of pictures and type, the story of the students, faculty and the personnel of the Temple Public Schools, who by WORKING and PLAYING together in a true spirit of cooperation with the added stimulus of friendly competition get desired RESULTS.

OUR STORY of Temple Schools begins with two well-furnished First Grade Rooms, where those students who have just begun the great adventure of school are guided by Mrs. Newcomb and Mrs. Medlin.

MRS. NEWCOMB'S ROOM

The West section of the First Grade Building contains the Cafeteria. Here meals that provide a balanced diet are prepared and served each day. After lunch, the First Grades retire to the gym for a rest period on their mats, and are joined by the Second Grade. Later in the year, when activities are scheduled in the gym, the rest periods are spent in the class rooms.

MRS. MEDLIN'S ROOM

To promote Health, Recreation, and Exercise, the children put to good use the slides and swings. Others play group games. Future "Tigers" engage in tough football. All are under the supervision of teachers on playground duty.

PLAYGROUND

JUNGLE BARS

MISS KOOKEN'S ROOM

Other second graders are in Mrs. Jeffrey's combination room. Here one will have his own desk. He can still "show and tell" about his new toys and adventures. Story time is more interesting now that he can read. The Third grade can even "carry" in arithmetic now.

MRS. JEFFREY'S ROOM

MRS. HICKERSON'S ROOM

A Second Grader can feel big and think big for he has moved up a step, into the grade building. Perhaps he will be in Miss Kookken's room. Here music will receive his whole-hearted response. He can be a member of the rhythm band. He will learn to write now.

The Third Grade room is next in line for those who are no longer of primary level. With Mrs. Hickerson as leader, the stories about health, and good citizenship take on new meaning.

There are two Fourth Grade units. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Hooper introduce the Fourth Grade to their neighbors in the United States in their studies in Geography. Art work displayed in these rooms show careful as well as thoughtful effort.

MRS. ADAMS' ROOM

MRS. HOOPER'S ROOM

These students begin the study of the past for future guidance in their first course in history. Practical learning is emphasized with multiplication and division. The music for the grades is directed by Mrs. Hooper

For the next point of interest, let's visit Mrs. Thompson's Fifth Grade, the first room on the east side of the hall. To the students here multiplication and division are more challenging now. The stars in the flag stand for 48 separate and individual states.

On the playground, these groups play hard. The boys play football or just scuffle. The girls imitate bands and majorettes, and play hop scotch.

MRS. THOMPSON'S ROOM

MRS. CLAUSEN'S ROOM

Other Sixth Graders, on the brink of stepping up into Junior High School, become neighbors of the people and countries of the world thru study directed by Mrs. Blair.

By tradition, the Sixth grade students inherit the Seventh grade section in the auditorium as a part of the last High School Assembly of the year.

MRS. BLAIR'S ROOM

The office of Grade Principal, Negial King, is centrally located to provide easy access to the Ditto machine and other supplies needed by his teaching personnel.

Here, too, minor cuts and bruises of energetic youngsters are taken care of with stimulating applications of the proper medicines.

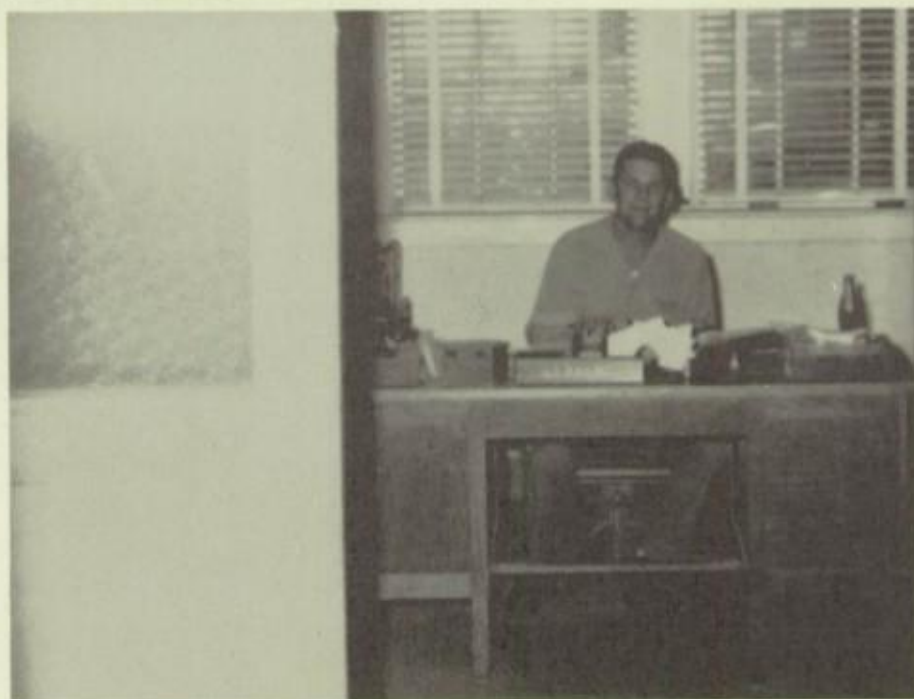

Kermit Langford is custodian of the entire school plant.

An uplifted hand is the teacher's signal that play period is over. In an orderly manner the word is passed along and the students form a line to enter and take up studies once more.

The Grade School Wing also contains the office of the superintendent of schools. All school activities are set in motion and school policies outlined in Mr. Adams' office. School events are scheduled on a larger master calendar.

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT

Mrs. Kermit Langford is School Secretary. One can know when Geraldine is working on the school's financial books by the yards of adding machine paper around the machine. All these records are necessary to keep track of the life and activities of a school.

The School Auditorium, now resplendent in new drapes, and equipped with loud speaker and footlights, forms the connecting point for the entire school. Herein are the scenes and sounds of National Assembly programs, Junior and Senior plays, one-act play tryouts, Open House, Christmas Pageantry, Talent Shows, Student Council elections, before the game Pep rallies, P.T.A. meetings, and Visual Education Film. All these are necessary and vital to a well-rounded education.

The High School wing begins with the Principal's office. This office also contains a master calendar of school activities as well as a schedule for use of the projectors and auditorium. Permanent record cards are maintained for each student. Under Mr. Hickerson's guidance, student office help assist in the carrying out of each school day's schedule.

OFFICE STAFF

EIGHTH ENGLISH CLASS

Junior High School is composed of the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Grades. Their subjects include English, Math U. S. History, Civics, Oklahoma History, and Science. These classes are scheduled with Mrs. Blackburn, Mr. Miller, Mr. Lynch, Mr. King, and Mr. Newcomb.

A balanced aquarium in the science lab is a point of interest now. Jr. High students play in the band and have music on alternate days with Phys. Ed.

Beginning with the Eighth grade Home Ec. classes are offered to the girls'. Mrs. Miller instructs them in cooking, sewing, and home management. The boys, at Ninth grade level may take agriculture and be members of FFA. Mr. King instructs the boys in Shop Courses. Many of the boys and girls participate in athletics with Mr. Miller as coach.

SEVENTH SCIENCE CLASS

For extra-curricula activities the girls in the Ninth are eligible for FHA membership. Following initiation, highlight of the year is the FHA trip to Oklahoma City.

FFA members participate in judging contests and local and state fairs. Mr. Knight and Mr. Heiliger are instructors in Agriculture.

SQUAD

Sophomores may enroll in Algebra as shown above, in Agriculture, Home Ec., General Business, or English. These students participate in band, chorus, and athletics. We see the sophomores looking back and thinking of themselves gleefully participating in the initiation of the present freshmen into the various organizations.

SOPHOMORES NOW AND THEN

Juniors at Work

Our English class, headed by Mrs. Lowe is one we all enjoy. There's always a little fun mixed in with hard work. When test-time rolls around, we wish we had never heard of pronoun, preposition, adverbs, adjective and all the rest.

In this picture we are doing research for a theme about a subject of our choice. We also learn the significance of outlining.

ENGLISH CLASS

TYPING CLASS

Our Typing class, taught by Mrs. Kerr, is one in which we are taught the proper use of the typewriter. To use this skill successfully in the business world, a second year of typing is advised.

Mrs. Kerr also sponsors the Annual.

Mrs.
Kerr

In our class of American History, we learn about the things that have been done before us. In history we also learn to apply the outlining learned in English. In addition to teaching history classes, Mr. Lynch is football coach.

The library is a very important part of our school. Through its doors pass many books, used for reading pleasure, themes and for other information. The staff, under the direction of Mrs. Boles, has a very important part in checking our books, getting new ones ready, and replacing those just checked in.

The Student Council represents the student body in discussing problems, planning activities, and promoting improvements for the school. Mr. Hickerson is faculty advisor. Officers are chosen in a general election, and representatives selected by their classes.
